

Sermon series: Visions of a King
Text: Zechariah 10:1-12
Delivered: December 11th, 2022
Kyle Kauffman

The Shepherd King

Big Idea: God has given us a king who cares deeply for us.

We are prone to _____ like _____. (vs.1-2)

The Shepherd King will _____ his people. (vs.6, 8)

God's pursuit demonstrates his _____ for us.

God's pursuit demonstrates his _____ for the lost.

The Shepherd King will _____ for his people. (vs. 3-7)

Christmas is a reminder that we have an _____ God.

The Shepherd King will _____ and _____ his people. (vs.8-12)

God demonstrates his care not in keeping us _____affliction, but in keeping us _____ affliction.

God's _____ preservation of his people should provide comfort for us _____.

The Shepherd King is _____ by his people and _____. (13:7)

Jesus' coming at Christmas _____ us that all of God's 'I wills' can be trusted.

"The Message of Zechariah is what God will do for His people so that he might rule and reign over them and they might joyfully hope and live under his rule and reign." -Mark Dever

Who have been authority figures in your life who you knew really cared for you? What type of impact have they had on your life?

What are some of the ways you see yourself as prone to wander? What are the things in life your heart may love and desire more than God?

How does God's pursuit of you encourage and comfort you? How does God's pursuit of lost people challenge you?

What are the hopes, burdens, and fears that are on your mind and heart this Christmas season? What does it look like for you to bring all those things to your shepherd king and trust him to provide for you?

What are some of the promises in the Bible that help to remind you that God is a generous God who loves to provide for his people?

What are some of the difficulties and afflictions you are facing or have faced in your own life that cause you to question God's care for you?

How can the truth that God is a shepherd who preserves you through difficulty and affliction help you in midst of those times?

How can Jesus' coming at Christmas give you confidence to trust his promises to you today?